ANNOUNCEMENTS

HOLY CONVERSATION

Into the welcoming space of God's Spirit, we pray. Sometimes we discover that it's hard to pray - our past, our present, or our worried future gets in the way. We reach in and reach out, searching for God, but our hearts come up empty. We open our minds and our lips, but our soul is too dry and too lifeless for truth. We fill the discomfort of silence with familiar phrases, but they ring hollow and empty. We speak words of transformation, change and newness, even while we avoid any real intention, and our hearts are left as cold as stone.

Then, we are astonished when the welcoming embrace of the Holy One floods our soul. From deep within, a voice arises - our voice, and God's voice too, as one voice together. Our heart finds its way in humble words of trust and hope, and the poetry of the Spirit sets a new rhythm. We encounter Jesus as our close companion, in the depths of truth and the heights of his mission in the world. Our prayer is now from a soul who has faced emptiness and then been filled by the Eternal Source.

In silence and in song, in relationship and in solitude, we can never be far from the One who brings vision and hope, comfort and challenge. May we and those with whom we share life's journey, find wonder and hope in God, direction and comfort in Jesus, and powerful new life in the Spirit. Amen.
