REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY

Sharing the Gospel of Jesus with all people through worship, service and care.

As we gather for worship today, we acknowledge that the land on which we gather is Treaty 6 territory, the ancestral land of several Indigenous nations, and part of the homeland of the Metis. We respect the sacredness of our shared home and the ground on which we walk, and we are grateful for its stewardship through the centuries.

Dealing with all the choices of our complicated lives, we often take the easy path - looking back to rest on our laurels, or simply to grieve our mistakes. We credit ourselves with the success we achieve, and find this more satisfying than knowing that so much that has come from others. We find it too hard and too frightening to look honestly at the future with vision, possibility, and hope.

When faced with choices, we sometimes react out of fear. When confronted by oppression and greed, we sometimes back down. When we see a world in grief and chaos, we sometimes give way to despair. When we have a chance to make a difference, we sometimes turn away.

In the deep truth of faith, may we know that God is present within us today, as God was with us yesterday and will be tomorrow. May this holy presence lead us into new ways that bring fullness of life to the world. May we know that unfailing grace and blessing lie at the heart of holiness. May this be light for our path along life's way. Amen.
